

Starlight Sojourn

In a cozy village, Max discovered an old star map in his grandfather's study. When he traced the constellations with a glow-in-the-dark pen, a celestial gateway appeared, leading him to Starlight Sojourn—a realm where wishes twinkled as brightly as the stars.

Accompanied by Nova, a friendly comet, Max traversed cosmic landscapes and encountered radiant star creatures. They soon learned that the Starlight Prism, the keeper of cosmic dreams, was losing its brilliance.

Eager to help, Max and Nova collected stardust by sharing their heartfelt dreams. As they sprinkled the stardust on the Prism, a celestial display illuminated the sky, restoring the magic of Starlight Sojourn.

Grateful for Max's dreams, Nova bestowed a star-shaped charm, a token of cosmic friendship. Max returned home, the star map now a cherished keepsake. The tale of "Starlight Sojourn" twinkled through the village, encouraging children to dream big and reach for the stars.
